BOOK STUDIES

FALL 2019

Drive: The Surprising Truth About What Motivates Us by Daniel H. Pink

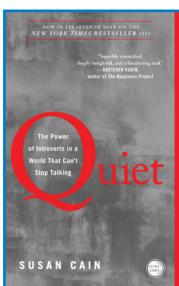

Nine weeks beginning September 16 through November 22, 2019

Registration Deadline: September 11, 2019

15 Hours of Gifted Education

Most of us believe that the best way to motivate ourselves and others is with external rewards like money. That's a mistake, says Daniel H. Pink. The secret to high performance and satisfaction—at work, at school, and at home—is the deeply human need to direct our own lives, to learn and create new things, and to do better by ourselves and our world. Gain insights and strategies to unlock motivation for your gifted students as well as yourself.

Quiet

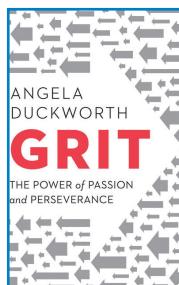

Nine weeks beginning January 13 - March 13, 2020

Registration Deadline: January 8, 2020

15 Hours of Gifted Education

Cain argues that modern Western culture misunderstands and undervalues the traits and capabilities of introverted people, leading to “a colossal waste of talent, energy, and happiness.” Join us as we explore how this impacts our classrooms, and specifically many of our gifted students.

SPRING 2020

Grit: The Power of Passion and Perseverance by Angela Duckworth

Nine weeks beginning March 2 - April 30, 2020

Registration Deadline: February 26, 2020

15 Hours of Gifted Education

Why do naturally talented people frequently fail to reach their potential while other far less gifted individuals go on to achieve amazing things? The secret to outstanding achievement is not talent, but a passionate persistence. Discover how to tap into these principles to impact your gifted students.

Quiet Power

Nine weeks beginning March 2 - April 30, 2020

Registration Deadline: February 26, 2020

15 Hours of Gifted Education

Susan Cain has extended her work with introverts & extroverts by writing this student and teacher version of Quiet. It shares an insightful view of the Super Powers our introverts hold. Cain shares how teachers & parents can guide students as they explore their introverted tendencies and begin to use their Super Powers to their advantage in the classroom, at home and while participating in extracurriculars. This empowering and insightful journey aides us as we build support systems in our homes and schools for our introverted students.
